World tourism trends in 2012

International tourist arrivals (overnight visitors) grew by 4% in 2012, to more than 1 billion for the first time in history. Despite continued economic uncertainty around the globe, demand for international tourism was stable throughout 2012.

Travel for holidays, recreation and leisure accounted for just over half of all international tourist arrivals (52% or 536 million arrivals) in 2012. Some 14% of international tourists travelled for business and professional purposes and 27% travelled for other purposes, such as visiting friends and relatives (VFR), religious reasons (pilgrimages), health treatment, etc. The purpose of visit for the remaining 7% of arrivals was not given.

As with international arrivals, the value of tourism receipts also grew by 4% in 2012, to reach a record of US$1.075 billion worldwide. This confirms the strong relationship between the two key indicators used in monitoring international tourism trends.
